

First 5 Yolo Privacy Policy

Welcome to the website operated by First 5 Yolo. First 5 Yolo is the sole owner of the information collected on this website. Information is collected for the purpose of analyzing how many visitors use this site, seeing how long patrons stay on the site, and which sections they view. This information is archived for future reference to understand the interests and needs of our visitors.

For site security purposes, this government computer system monitors network traffic to identify unauthorized attempts to upload or change information or otherwise cause damage.

For site management, this government computer system uses software programs to create summary statistics, which are used for such purposes, i.e., assessing what information is of interest, determining technical design specifications and identifying system performance or problem areas.

For site management, information may be collected with personally identifiable data only through lawful means. Personally identifiable data collected by First 5 Yolo is relevant to the purpose for which it is collected. First 5 Yolo specifies the reasons for collection of personally identifiable data at or before the time of collection, and any subsequent use of the data shall be limited to and consistent with the fulfillment of those purposes.

If you have questions or comments about our privacy practices, would like to stop receiving information from us, or would like to remove, correct or update information you have provided to us via this Web site, please contact us either by sending an e-mail to cfc@first5yolo.org , or by sending a letter to:

If you would like to remove, correct or update information, please provide us with sufficient information to locate the record that you wish to be removed, corrected or updated. We will attempt to comply with your request, but we cannot promise to do so.

If you choose to submit information to us, it will be transmitted through secure lines to our departmental database. Any private information will only be used for the purposes for which it was provided and will not be shared with another entity except as required or permitted by law.

By accessing any area of this website, you agree to the Conditions of Use, also available on this web site. All personal information collected and maintained by First 5 Yolo is secured against loss, damage, modification or unauthorized use or disclosure. First 5 Yolo uses multiple technological and procedural approaches to protect against unauthorized disclosure of this information pursuant to current law and practice. These practices and policies are reviewed regularly.

First 5 Yolo adheres to all First 5 Yolo privacy policies, as well as applicable California and Federal privacy legislation and regulations.
